THE SOCIALISTS AT WORK IN HAWAII

The Russian Agitation Here May Have Far-Reaching Results.

LIBELOUS CIRCULARS OUT

Agitations Which Are Expected to Lead to an Investigating Commission.

Hawaii may have the benefit of another investigating commission as a result of matter sent from here in connection with the difficulties with Russians. The fact that the matter has been taken up by Samuel Gompers, for many years president of the American Federation of Labor, and by the socialist organization in New York, has been cabled here by the Associated Press, and it seems to be expected that there will be some sort of an investigation as a result of their activities.

There is a small body of local socialists who have been busy in sending to their "comrades" in the East, attacks on the authorities here in connection with the Russian experiment. Some time ago a circular was distributed locally, headed "Lawless Brutality," and referring to the actions of the police in disbursing a crowd of Russians who riotously gathered at the police station to demand the release of a Russian under arrest. The circular was, in its terms, speaking of women and children being "trampled under the feet of horses," though the record shows no one injured. The circular is said to have been widely distributed among socialist organizations on the Mainland. It gave the impression that the police were the aggressors, and dubbed and whipped the Russians to make them go to work on plantations. It makes no mention of the fact that the Russians had gathered in a mob in front of the police headquarters of Honolulu, and that the police merely dispersed them when they refused to obey the sheriff's orders to leave.

That American socialism is going to turn its guns on Hawaii is indicated by the cable information from Los Angeles yesterday and the reports of the activities of local members of this sect, party or whatever rank it claims.

While the local socialists are few in numbers, twenty being a large estimate of those who attend the Friday meetings, the reports which they have sent out broadcast on every opportunity have done much to arouse their Mainland brothers and sisterly organs. The reported action of the Los Angeles socialists in determining to engage a lawyer to come to Honolulu and defend the afflicted Russians is a direct result of these reports as circulated by members of the local socialistic colony.

This body has taken no official steps in the matter besides sending out the (Continued on Page Two.)

FOUND HER HUSBAND HAD MARRIED ANOTHER WOMAN

A Woman Who Is Released From the Leper Settlement Returns Home Only to Get a Divorce.

LIHUE, June 11.—Two libels for divorce were heard in the circuit court last Monday morning, both being uncontested, and both were granted by the court, sufficient grounds being shown.

The first was the action of Mrs. Mary Mahailani Laanua against David Laanua, her husband, and it was brought on the ground of desertion and failure to provide, which were proved. There was no contest, as the husband had disappeared and was not to be found, the libel having been advertised for the statutory period, and the libel was granted, the custody of the one child of the marriage being given to the libellant.

The second libel was that of Mrs. Malaina Panahi Manaka against her "better half" for a divorce on the ground of nonsupport. In this action the husband has been found and service made upon him, but he did not appear to contest it.

He had evidently had some cause to think himself free to marry again, for

RUSSIANS IN IWILEI CAMP

The Recent Arrivals Have Taken Jobs on the Local Waterfront.

SEEM TO BE PROSPEROUS

Those Who Won't Go to Plantations Have Started Iwilei Shack Village.

Fifty fairly comfortable huts, more pretentious than the original shacks, now house a large number of Russian immigrants at the Iwilei camp selected by the Russians when they refused to go to plantation work several weeks ago. The present huts are large and rather roomy, with shady little porches extending over the doorways, and diminutive lanais are attached to many of the matting houses in which the squatters dine.

Last evening the camp was one of the most orderly places in the city, and the place resounded with laughter and music. From the interiors of many houses came the rays of candle and lamp light. Others were in darkness, but the occupants had the door flaps open, the men smoking and chatting with the women. The camp presented an appearance of respectability, and its population seemed to be happy.

The tinkle of the guitar and the more ambitious and sonorous strains of the accordion came from many parts of the camp, with vocal accompaniment which evidenced light hearts.

There are several score of people living in the shack-village, most of the men finding employment as stevedores and day laborers in the teaming departments of some of the larger local corporations.

In Iwilei town a part of the old "stockade" is now occupied by Russian families. The little rooms have been neatly furnished, and the occupants are dressing fairly well and apparently have plenty to eat, for last evening a feast was in progress at which about a score of Russians were present. Music was also a feature at this banquet, and merriment seemed unlimited.

Among all these residents of the shack-village and the stockade are many who have returned from plantations, and some of the last lots, who drifted there to remain with friends.

ARMY OFFICERS DO NECESSARY MARATHON

Lieutenant-Commander Houston, U. S. N., Paymaster Hornberger, U. S. N., and Doctor Lane, surgeon, U. S. N., on Saturday completed their fifty-mile walk, complying with the official requirement of an annual double marathon. They made the trip into the country, being examined at ten o'clock Thursday morning, after which they started. The regulation gives all officers the privilege of making the fifty-mile walk in three days, the half-century to be divided into three parts.

WILL BUILD AT WAIKIKI BEACH

Outriggers' Carnival a Success and Clubhouse Is Now Planned.

The Outriggerites do not yet know just how far ahead of the game they are as a result of the carnival of Friday night. They would, however, refuse a thousand dollars for the gross receipts. Already the entertainment committee reports one dancing party, forty by forty feet, completed and paid for, a sixteen-column lanai, also completed and paid for, besides a couple of hundred dollars of other improvements and furniture—and there is more to come, as a result of the entertainment.

After all, however, the greatest acquisition to the club is the three big Wall canoes. These magnificent specimens of the real polished kea articles are now on exhibition in their future home in the new dance lanai of the Outrigger Club. They are without doubt the finest racing canoes in these islands, and the club has been after them for two years. It is a courtesy to Curtis Hustace and Lorrin Andrews that they at last rest in the club lanai. Dr. A. C. Wall still holds title to these canoes, but for racing purposes and practice work they are Outrigger canoes, and three crack crews are now being organized. The canoes will be strapped to the outriggers and taken down, only when there is a race in sight. These are the canoes that raced Friday over the new Outrigger course.

There was splendid sailing yesterday. Many of the club experts were out. The officers and workers of the club are nudging their brains just now trying to devise some graceful method of rendering their appreciation thanks to the ladies who cooperated with them last Friday, and to whom was due the best features of the entertainment. They are also after the money again, for the Outriggerites need a club house, and they are going to have it.

RESERVOIR AT RIGHT POSITION

Water Source for Kaimuki Will Supply Rapidly Growing Suburb.

The 750,000-gallon reservoir being constructed on the summit of the Kaimuki ridge in the very center of a rapidly-growing suburb, has reached a stage where its proportions being to show. The reservoir occupies the highest point on the ridge so that there will be a heavy head of water to the large area of country now being opened up for residence purposes.

The reservoir is to be filled with water from the Pahoa pump, now owned by the government. The pump will keep a constant supply of water in the reservoir, so that although the Kaimuki country may be thickly populated there will always be a sufficient supply for all needs.

The Kaimuki suburb on the town side of the ridge has been open for residence purposes for about eight years, and had become a thriving suburb when M. Stanton acquired the ownership of most of the unsold section. Since then the lots have been sold so rapidly that very few lots remain untaken on the town side.

Those who have not visited Kaimuki in the last six months will be surprised to find what a wonderful change has taken place, for the former desolate-looking country on the Waialae side of the ridge, covered with dead underbrush and rocks, has been cleared off, streets run through much of it forming a gridiron of thoroughfares which are being macadamized, and a score of handsome homes are to be started in the next two months. The view from Kaimuki ridge gives a commanding aspect of the ocean and Koko Head, and in some respects the sea view on the Waialae side is superior to that on the town side.

The roads leading to, around and from Fort Rucker are now in fine shape and are favorites with motorists. In fact, the Diamond Head road has become more popular since the roads around and through Fort Rucker have been completed, the drive being equally as popular in the daytime as in the nighttime.

FUNERAL RITES FOR ROBERT A. DUNCAN

The last rites over the remains of Robert A. Duncan were held yesterday under masonic auspices, interment being in the Naniua cemetery. Services were first held in the Masonic Temple, and then a procession was formed that marched to the Methodist church, where further services were held, presided over by the Rev. Mr. Jones. Rev. John Wadman delivered the obituary address. The masons conducted the services at the grave.

In his address, Mr. Wadman said in part: "We are gathered here today to pay a tribute of respect to one whom we all greatly loved. It is called upon to characterize the earthly life of him whose memory we cherish at this hour, in one brief sentence, then I might say that our friend, Robert A. Duncan, was an upright citizen, a faithful friend, a worthy man, a devoted husband and a loving son. And having said that, what more could we say in the way of a eulogy? He, himself, in his natural modesty, would prefer that we should not use more than these simple eulogistic terms. And for one to have met and fulfilled as faithfully and conscientiously as he did, all the relations of life as indicated above, is to have lived a life well pleasing to God and praiseworthy in the eyes of his fellow-men."

AS A THIEF HE WORKED HARD

Yee Dong You Now Has Seven Larceny Charges to Answer.

Yee Dong You, the Korean who has proven to be the most industrious thief with which the police have had to deal for some time, was yesterday charged with larceny in the second degree for the seventh time.

The cause of the last charge was the identification of a buggy seat which was found among his plunder, but which was never claimed until yesterday, when E. Herriek Brown of upper Manoa road asserted his ownership. It was stolen from his buggy some time ago.

The Korean will appear in court this morning to be tried on the first charge against him, that of stealing a bicycle, and Chief McDuffie will insist that the man be tried on each charge pending. It is very probable that other offenses will be laid at his door before his trials are completed, for it is morally certain that he is the thief who stole S. M. Damon's harness some time ago. The officers have not yet been able to locate it, but have heard that You had it in his possession.

All reports of thefts among the private garages of the city have ceased since the man was apprehended, and it is evident that he is the one who played such havoc with auto tires, lamps and other sundries.

HIGHNESS WANTS A LOCAL MAN

Gaekwar of Baroda Threatens to Take Chauffeur Schoening.

Chauffeur Comp. Schoening, who "chauff" a limousine car, was the pilot for the Gaekwar of Baroda when that Prince and his family were in Honolulu on Saturday and Sunday. The Gaekwar witnessed in from the Siberia for a car and Comp. was assigned as personal conductor for His Highness.

On leaving the steamer the potentate and family boarded the machine at once, the prince occupying the seat beside Schoening. During the next three hours Comp. had more questions put to him about the city of Honolulu, its people, geography, topography and all the alphabets and dogies down to the doxology.

He visited the aquarium and wanted to know all about the different exhibits he saw and Comp. told him all the fish stories he knew and then some.

The Gaekwar took a great fancy to Comp. and his took his address; assured the driver that he was going to have a limousine car when he returned home and wanted Comp. to accept the job as royal chauffeur to His Highness the Prince and best it to Baroda in response to his summons. Comp. said he would and let it go at that. He wants to learn how to crank an automobile before he ventures into that country, he said last night, because he might run out of gasoline off the line of the trip.

YOUNG MILLIONAIRE SURRENDERS HIS FORTUNE

ST. LOUIS, June 12.—David Rankin, Jr., possessor of a fortune of three million dollars, has made a deed devoted to the establishment of a school to be named after him. Young Rankin retains for himself an income of three thousand dollars a year, and gives all the rest of his fortune to the school.

AIRSHIP MEN ARE MAKING RECORDS

Many Thousands of New Yorkers See a Short Flight in a Rainstorm.

MANY MACHINES UP TODAY

New York to Philadelphia Flight and Eleven Airships in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 13.—There will be eleven contestants in the aviation meet here today.

NEW YORK, June 13.—In a driving rainstorm, Hamilton yesterday flew from New York City to Governors Island. His flight was watched by hundreds of thousands of people.

Today Hamilton proposes to attempt to fly from New York to Philadelphia.

LINCOLN, June 13.—Clyde Heckle, dangling from an escaped balloon yesterday, ascended to a height of six thousand feet. He made the descent successfully, after unintentionally breaking the altitude records.

SPRINGFIELD, June 13.—Willard's flying machine was wrecked yesterday while he was steering at an elevation of about one hundred and fifty feet. The machine and aviator fell, narrowly missing the grandstand, in which was a large number of spectators. Willard's injuries are slight, in spite of his fall of a hundred and fifty feet.

GREAT PARADE FOR ROOSEVELT

Twenty Thousand Will March on the Day of His Return.

NEW YORK, June 13.—There will be twenty thousand in line in the Roosevelt reception parade on Saturday. Very elaborate preparations are being made to receive the colonel, and the demonstration will be very extensive. Roosevelt has insisted that any reception offered him be non-partisan, but Republican clubs are preparing to take active part in the reception and parade.

NEW YORK, May 14.—There was a sport yesterday in applications to the reception committee from those who wish to take part in the ceremonies on June 18, welcoming Colonel Roosevelt back to America. Every mail yesterday brought letters from organizations asking places in the line of march on land or in the naval parade which will precede it. Captain Cosby yesterday predicted that the demonstration would be one of the most notable in the history of the city, bringing here a great number of visitors from every section of the country. The Republican Club, which will welcome Colonel Roosevelt at quarantine, has chartered the Hudson River steamboat Albany, which will leave two hours before the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, on which Colonel Roosevelt will cross, is due at quarantine. A letter was received yesterday from Ramon Gutierrez, president of the African Big Game Club, in which he said:

"I am writing on behalf of the club to say that in case you would like to have us do so we would be pleased to take any part in the reception to Colonel Roosevelt you may see fit, either by appearing as part of the committee or as a body."

Lloyd Gibson, chairman of the Republican county committee, has arranged with Republican leaders of thirty-five assembly districts to take part in the reception.

SMALLPOX IN MEXICO.

EL PASO, Texas, June 13.—A virulent outbreak of smallpox has taken place in Oaxaca, Mexico. Hundreds are dying, and panic prevails.
